B. Suggestion

The results of this study can lead to the suggestions for the following parties:

1. The Linguistic students

The students majoring in linguistics are suggested to learn discourse analysis since it is important to know the intended meaning in communication and it helps them avoid misunderstanding in communication. In addition, reading this research, students as foreign language learners can get some knowledge that performing act via language can be in various ways. They can perform request is not only through an imperative sentence, but also through an interrogative sentence and a declarative sentence.

2. to other researchers

Request becomes a broad topic, which needs to be analyzed with women different approaches. It is suggested that other researchers conduct their investigations in the similar field related to request but on a different objective. This research only discusses the types of request and expression of request that used by main character. Therefore, other researchers can explore function of request, level of request and influence of social factor in the movie. In other side, other researcher can analyze other character on the devil wears prada in the movie or script. These might be a good focus for future research.
