

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter will present some conclusions and suggestions from the research findings and discussion. This chapter also shows the result from the data analysis.

A. Conclusion

From the finding, it can conclude the answer from research problems as follows:

1. Homegrown material is the material formed in certain subjects, certain students by teachers with resources that can be used within a certain time, the atmosphere of material homegrown is like at home. The homegrown material use in the research subject is using material like at home and the text is descriptive texts.
2. Teaching reading through homegrown material gives positive effect. The research and teacher feel that students have already reached a good result in their reading proficiency because of their own motivation.

B. Suggestion

1. For the teacher

The teacher should know the result from this study as a reference of the student's accomplishment of build positive classroom environment. He should give material more effectively.

2. For students
