The writer categorizes meme Troll Football post into six kinds based on its theme; those are social, religion, technology, entertainment, politic, and economy. Those categories base on the reality in football which is not only just talking about sport.

In this point, the writer provides two sub categories of the discussion based on the findings. This study was analyzed by using Semiotics theory, Ferdinand de Saussure theory as the grand theory and Roland Barthes theory as the supporting theory.

This study had similarities and differences with Indriani Triandjojo's study in 2008. The similarities was the theory, that was applied, was same, Semiotics. But in this study, the writer just focused on Semiotics of Signification which was brought by Ferdinand de Saussure.

Indriani Triandjojo's study used the Semiotics of Signification and Semiotics of Communication. Semiotics of Communication was brought by Charels Sanders Peirce. Besides using Semiotics of Communication theory, Indriani also applied other Communication Sciences theory.

This study was analyzing meme Troll Football. The word troll had close meaning with criticize. Most of Troll Football posts are about criticizes someone who had basically in football, but not all post is about criticized. In Troll Football also posted something which had positive activity, such as donate some of the wealth to the needy.

In the Islamic teachings, Moslem had way to criticize someone. For example, the writer took QS. Thaha 44:

فَقُولَا لَهُ قَوْلًا لَيِّنَا لَعَلَّهُ يَتَذَكَّرُ أَوْ يَخْشَىٰ ٢

Meaning: And speak to him with gentle speech that perhaps he may be reminded or fear [Allah] (And speak to the two of you with the gentle words) to resuscitate him in order not claim to be god (hopefully he remembers) i.e. conscious and willing to accept it (or afraid of) Allah, then he would be aware. Expression 'hopefully' had relation with Musa and Harun. Meanwhile according to the knowledge of Allah, so He had knew that Pharaoh would never realize about his deeds.
