

Abstract

The purpose of this research is to assess what the adaptations former sex workers in the form of adaptations positive and negative adaptations .The research is the qualitative study a case study , by using triangulasi as of data validation .The subject of study is a former commercial sex workers aged 32 years and cease to be sex workers at the age of 27 years .The reason the subject cease to be sex workers is because there is the guilt and wanted to repent and want to have the number of households that good. Adaptations was a process how individuals reached the balance of life in fulfilling their need in accordance with the environment .This study found the four categories of a discovery that which two categories the findings are the main findings, and two categories the findings is another result as a supporter of key findings .First there are some process traversed by former sex workers ranging from changes in a bad economy, views of people tend to be negative, and the inner pressure of sin ever done. Second, the result of adjustment of former commercial sex workers in the form of adjustment positively that does not show the emotional tension subjects never reply to scorn or negative remarks from people around, did not show the mechanisms of psychological subjects reserve the defenses positive so that it can face problems with either, did not show any personal frustration subject considers all the problems that happened is a test from Allah, have a rational judgment and self-direction, and to be realistic and objective.

The other findings were found as additional data, First, find the factors that influence the adjustment in itself a subject that cultural determinants where the subject can adjust according to the appearance of the neighborhood. Secondly, there are four aspects of the adjustment in the subject of the perception of reality, the ability to deal with stress and anxiety when the economy deteriorates subjects chose selling cakes around to meet daily needs, the ability to express emotions well the subjects continued to do good to the people who have given negative comments him, have good interpersonal relationships have good interpersonal relationships with the residents or the surrounding community.

Keywords: process, adjustment, a former sex worker menghadapi stress dan kecemasan ketika perekonomian memburuk subjek memilih berjualan kue keliling untuk mencukupi kebutuhan sehari-hari, kemampuan mengekspresikan emosi dengan baik subjek tetap berbuat baik kepada warga yang telah memberikan komentar negatif kepadanya, memiliki hubungan interpersonal yang baik memiliki hubungan interpersonal yang baik dengan warga atau masyarakat sekitar.

Kata Kunci : proses, penyesuaian diri, mantan PSK

