

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSSION AND SUGGESTION

In this chapter presents the conclusion ad suggestion dealing with findings of this research.

5.1 Conclusion

The illocutionary used in the readers forum of the Jakarta post newspaper the writer found the kinds of illocutionary act used in the readers forum on May 2012 is Assertive act, directive act, commissive act, expressive act and declarative act. First Assertive act used to commits the speaker to the truth of expresses preposition or the writer or speaker use language to tell what they know or believe. The Second is directive act, it is used to used to get the hearer to do something, the writer intended to produce some effect through action by the readers. The third is commissive act, this illocutionary act is an act which the speaker commits to some future action. The fourth is expressive act is act that state what the speaker feels. They express psychological states and can statements of pleasure, and the last is declarative, it is the act that change in reality in accord with preposition of the declaration. Moreover the most illocutionary used in the readers forum on May 2012 is assertive.

In the other cases, the function of illocutionary used in readers forum is the writer found all the function of illocutionary act are performed in the readers forum such as competitive, convivial, collaborative and conflictive and the most function used in the readers forum is Collaborative function.

5.2 Suggestion

Based on the findings, I propose the suggestions related to the focus of the study, First, it is recommended to the readers to understand the meaning and the function of the utterance by reading the whole text with the appropriate context. It can avoid the miss perception to someone's opinion.

Writing this thesis is the most memorable experience to me, because of it, the researcher capable done to answer the statement of the problem and know about how the illocutionary act used and the function of illocutionary in readers' forum. The researcher hopes this research can be useful for another researcher and language user especially about speech act and illocutionary act. Therefore the researcher suggest this researcher is able to be useful references for student in English department who interest in discourse analysis especially in speech act theory, thus the student can understand more and will be able to enrich their knowledge about speech act and etc. the researcher realizes that the thesis there are some weaknesses on the types of illocutionary act. Finally the researcher aware that this research still so far from perfection therefore, the researcher hope for the next researcher to conduct the research using illocutionary act in other fields, like in literary work.