CHAPTER V CONCLUSION

In this chapter, the writer will present about the conclusion of this thesis. The conclusions are obtained from the analysis done toward the data of conversation of Mata Najwa Talk Show (eps. Tumbal Nyawa Sepakbola June 29th, 2016). The conclusion are follows

- 1. In the talk show, the conversation between the speaker and the guest using the representative act in Illocutionary act. Guest describe the actual events.
- 2. Through deep analyzing, the writer finds that every utterance from the host actually herds to the new question which is interrelated each other. It is related to the script—that has been prepared before. Besides discussing the crucial problem, issue, or fact which in popular, the way the host interviews the guests with to the point questions makes Mata Najwa Talk Show becomes a favorable talk show program for indonesian people.
- 3. The results showed that in the Mata Najwa dialogue, the presenter using five types of speech acts in his speech; Directive, Representative, Commissive, Declarative and Expressive. Every kind of speech act they have different illocution pressures.
- 3. The researcher hopes this research can be useful for another researcher and language user especially about speech act and illocutionary act. Therefore the researcher suggest this researcher is able to be useful references for student in English department who interest in discourse analysis especially in speech act theory, thus the student can understand more and will be able to enrich their knowledge about speech act and etc. the researcher realizes that the thesis there are some weaknesses on the types of illocutionary act. Finally the researcher aware that this research still so far from perfection therefore, the researcher hope for the next researcher to conduct the research using illocutionary act in other fields, like in literary work.
