CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION

A. Conclusion

After identified and analyzed the data on previous chapters, the researcher found several conclusions like bellows:

- 1. From the data analysis in chapter 4, the researcher found that there are five variations of addressing terms which are used in The Karate Kid movie, such as addressing terms using name, using kinship, intimacy, respect and also mockery.
- 2. The researcher applied Hymes SPEAKING theory in chapter 4 to analyze those 5 variations of addressing term and found there are some reasons of employing addressing term used in The Karate Kid movie. Those reasons are employing addressing terms to show intimacy, care, sympathy, worry, power/authority, politeness, to calm someone, to warn someone, and to show anger/dislike.
- 3. Politeness pattern of addressing terms in The Karate Kid movie are analyzed in chapter 4 by using Tu and Vous theory (T/V principles). Those are three kinds of politeness pattern such as asymmetrical T/V usage, symmetrical /mutual T usage, and symmetrical /mutual V usage.
