

CHAPTER III

ANALYSIS

This chapter is divided into two parts. Firstly, the study tries to describe Don Vito Corleone taking the pain from others. Then, the study describes Don Vito Corleone accepting the happiness from others. Moreover, this study is analyzed through the theories that mentioned previously.

A. Don Vito Corleone services others

This part describes the way of Don Vito Corleone to service others. The description is about Don Vito Corleone who cares to others and makes him services them such as saving the Italian immigrant, giving some money to his friends, giving the justice, giving advice to his godson, solving the problem with landlord, being the insurance for his ex-consigliore, saving the orphan, saving his son from the world war. Even he saves the nurse from the death. However, as the human being, Don Vito Corleone cannot meddle into the problem of husband and wife. Moreover, the description puts theory of morality and psychology to reveal the evidence of the subject above.

As to saving the Italian immigrant, firstly, this study describes the chapter one of the story. In the beginning, Don Vito Corleone, as the godfather of Corleones, celebrates the wedding party of his daughter, Connie Corleone. With his humility, Don Vito invites his friends, old friends, the neighbor, and some enemies. They come to wedding party with the pride of the noble, because of Don Vito as the head of crime syndicate facing them by himself.

Mario Puzo, the author of The Godfather, describes Don Vito Corleone as good Sicilian. Don Vito celebrates the wedding party of his daughter likes the tradition of Sicilian; never refuses what his friends request in wedding party of the daughter. Hence, Don accepts all of his friends who request some helps.

"Why do they bother your father with business on a day like this?" Kay asked. Michael laughed again. "Because they know that by tradition no Sicilian can refuse a request on his daughter's wedding day. And no Sicilian ever lets a chance like that go by." (Puzo 11).

Don knows how to service his friends who need helps. Of course, as the godfather he can do anything with his power. In addition, Don Vito not only does what his friends ask for, but also Don Vito puts the problem of them in his heart and shows his empathy. The empathy of Don Vito can give a sign to the one who talks with him that Don Vito cares about the problem. Moreover, if Don Vito has care with the problem, of course, he will care about every problem of his friends.

Just like when his old friend, Nazorine, comes to the wedding party. Nazorine needs some helps to make the love of Nazorine's daughter, an Italian immigrant named Enzo who will deport to Italy, to be an American and stay in America with

As to giving some money to his friends, Don Vito shows his humility. After Don Vito gives some helps to Nazorine, the one named Anthony Cappola comes. Anthony needs some helps. He decides to open the pizzeria. Unfortunately, he does not have enough money to open it. He just needs five hundred dollars to open the pizzeria that he wants. Hence, he comes to Don Vito ask for money.

His name was Anthony Coppola and he was the son of a man Don Corleone had worked with in the railroad yards in his youth. Coppola needed five hundred dollars to open a pizzeria; for a deposit on fixtures and the special oven. For reasons not gone into, credit was not available. The Don reached into his pocket and took out a roll of bills. It was not quite enough. He grimaced and said to Tom Hagen, "Loan me a hundred dollars, I'll pay you back Monday when I go to the bank." The supplicant protested that four hundred dollars would be ample, but Don Corleone patted his shoulder, saying, apologetically, "This fancy wedding left me a little short of cash." He took the money Hagen extended to him and gave it to Anthony Coppola with his own roll of bills (Puzo 8).

To give five hundred dollars just for Anthony Cappola who wants to open the pizzeria is easy for Don Vito. However, at the same time, Don Vito shows his humility to Anthony and his consigliere, Tom Hagen. Consciously, Don Vito loans a hundred dollars from his consigliere. It is because of his money in the pocket is not enough to give Anthony who needs five hundred dollars.

Don Vito shows that even though he has a lot of money, he still wants to loan some money to his consigliere. Even though the supplicant protests that four hundred dollars in the pocket of Don Vito is enough for him, but Don Vito refuses that protest.

Don Vito still loans the money from Tom Hagen and gives all of the money to Anthony. He wants to be humble in front of both his friend and his consigliere.

As to giving the justice, Don Vito does his role in the best way. The old friend of Don Vito, Amerigo Bonasera, who never declares his friendship, comes to Don Vito Corleone for request some helps. He gets problem; his daughter has get mistreatment by two American guys. It makes her face is so bad and have to get treatment in the hospital for a view month. As the father, Amerigo Bonasera comes to the police station and brings that case to the court. However, Bonasera does not get the justice as he wants; to punish those guys equivalent. He disappoints with the result of the court. For him, the court in America and the police can bring the justice for him. Hence, he comes to Don Vito Corleone ask for justice.

As respected man, Don Vito Corleone only needs the declaration of friendship to him if someone needs his help. No matter how difficult the problems, Don Vito will never refuse it. However, as the old friend of Don Vito, Amerigo Bonasera never declares it. Bonasera never declares that Don Vito is his friend or his godfather. Nevertheless, Bonasera comes to Don Vito for request now.

Don Vito hates the one such as Amerigo Bonasera. The one, who never comes as friend, never declares the friendship, but ask for help and ask for justice. However, Bonasera persuades. He persuades Don Vito for help and at last, he declares his friendship to Don Vito.

As to giving the advice for his godson, Johnny Fontane, he can do his role well. In the wedding party of Connie, Johnny comes and faces his father with many problems. He says that there is problem in his voice and makes him cannot sing for a long time. In addition, the problem of his ex-wife affects his mental and life overall.

Don Vito Corleone is the real godfather especially for Johnny. Don knows that he needs some helps of his godfather. Honestly, Don Vito is angry to Johnny because of he left and divorces his ex-wife However, he cannot let Johnny fall into the trouble. As godfather, Don Vito gives an advice to godson, Don Vito tells that the source of problem of Johnny is because of divorcing his first wife to catch another girl.

Even though Don Vito disagrees with divorcing of Johnny, he still regards Johnny as his godson. He wants to be the one who wants to listen what Johnny says. He puts his self as the cure of the Johnny problem. Moreover, he tells that even though Johnny has left his ex-wife, but Johnny has to give the quality time for his child.

It was rare that Don Corleone showed exasperation. "I didn't tell you to get married again. Do what you want. It's good you wish to be a father to your children. A man who is not a father to his children can never be a real man. But then, you must make their mother accept you. Who says you can't see them every day? Who says you can't live in the same house? Who says you can't live your life exactly as you want to live it?" (Puzo 17)

As to being the insurance for his ex- consigliere, don Vito does it well. Before Tom Hagen, Don Vito has great consigliere named Gonco Abbandando. However, Genco is sick and Tom Hagen takes his position. In the beginning of the story, Genco cannot come to the Connie wedding party is because of he is in the hospital. After the wedding party is done, Don Vito takes his sons and godson to see Genco in the hospital. Don Vito knows that Genco is in agony.

Don Vito comes in the hospital. However, the Doctor forbids him to face Genco because of the Genco condition. The Doctor thinks that it will be better if everyone let Genco dies in peace. Nevertheless, Don says something that can assure the Doctor;

"Then there is nothing more for you to do," said Don Corleone. "We will take up the burden. We will comfort him. We will close his eyes. We will bury him and weep at his funeral and afterwards we will watch over his wife and daughters." (Puzo 22)

For Don, Genco is the best consigliere that he ever has. A Sicilian who has the balls likes the real Sicilian. However, Genco will die. Don says those words to the Doctor is because of Don can keep his words. Of course, Don is ready to take the burden of Genco up. Don will comfort him and will close his eyes. Moreover, Don Vito will take the pain of Genco.

Don Vito will care the family of Genco after he died. The children of genco will get the best school for their education. Mrs. Genco will never worry about the life anymore. Genco family will be prosperous even though the father dies. Because of Don Vito will take the pain of Genco family.

As to saving the orphan named Tom Hagen, Don Vito plays his role well. Tom Hagen takes the position of Genco Abbando a year ago. It is because of the condition of Genco that cannot work maximally. Actually, Tom Hagen is an orphan who takes by Sonny Corleone to Corleone's house. He is sick, and because of Don Vito empathize, Don brings him to the doctor. Don knows that Tom Hagen's life is unfortunate. Hence, Don Vito lets him to stay in Corleone's house and get the education like Corleone's sons.

In the most natural way, without a word being spoken or the matter discussed in any fashion, Don Corleone had permitted the boy to stay in his household. Don Corleone himself took the boy to a special doctor and had his eye infection cured. He sent him to college and law school. In all this the Don acted not as a father but rather as a guardian. There was no show of affection but oddly enough the Don treated Hagen more courteously than his own sons, did not impose a parental will upon him. It was the boy's decision to go to law school after college (Puzo 26).

The force of conscience that appears in the superego of Don Vito makes Tom Hagen, who is orphan, changes to be an educated man. Then, he change to be the lawyer and get in the business of Corleones family. Moreover, Tom Hagen is the consigliere now.

Don Vito cares Tom Hagen. It depicts when Tom Hagen asks for the college and wants to be a lawyer. All of Don Vito does, because of he knows the past of unfortunate Tom Hagen. In this case, Don Vito tries to take the pain of Tom Hagen life and give him a better life. Moreover, Don Vito gives him respect.

Don Vito chooses Tom Hagen because he can play his role as Sicilian consigliere even though he is German-Irish. Don Vito always asks his opinion for every problem. However, in the last story of The Godfather, Michel changes to be the successor of his father. He changes to be the next Don for the Corleones.

Besides the transition of Don Vito to Don Michel, Tom Hagen as the consigliere has discharged. He lost his position in the Corleones. Of course it makes him disappointed. He tells that Michel is too weak because his strategy is nothing. The enemies of Corleones hit them, but Michel does not do anything. Hence, Tom Hagen is disappointed.

In this time, Don Vito, as the father of Michel and the one who is respected by Tom Hagen, gives some advice for Tom Hagen. He gives insurance to Tom Hagen that his youngest son, Michel Corleone, can run the Corleones. Tom Hagen only has to believe in Michel and Don Vito and everything will be all right.

The Don finally spoke. "Tom, it's not just Michael. I advised him on these matters. There are things that may have to be done that I don't want in any way to be responsible for. That is my wish, not Michael's. I never thought you were a bad Consigliere, I thought Santino a bad Don, may his soul rest in peace. He had a good heart but he wasn't the right man to head the Family when I had my little misfortune. And who would have thought that Fredo would become a lackey of women? So don't feel badly. Michael has all my confidence as you do. For reasons which you can't know, you must have no part in what may happen. By the way, I told Michael that Lampono's secret regime would not escape your eye. So that shows I have faith in you." (Puzo 229-230)

Don Vito shows how powerful his words. The advice of Don Vito can bring both freed the worry of Hagen and assured the position of Michel as the new Don for The Corleones. Tom Hagen just needs insurance from the one who is respected by him. In addition, Don Vito has to strengthen the position of Michel who is just to be the next Don for The Corleones.

As to saving his son, Michel Corleone, from the world war, Don Vito does his role in the good way. The youngest son of Don Vito Corleone, Michel Corleone, is different from two older son of Don. In the beginning of story, Michel is the war hero of the World War who does not want to involve into the business of the family. He knows the activity inside. Therefore, he wants not to get involved.

He enrolls his self to be an army when the World War II happens. Don Vito has no intention to let Michel died because of the war. Then, the war is over, and Michel gets back to his life as common citizen. In addition, because of Michel gets a bad wound, he discharges from his job to be an army. Actually, the discharging of Michel to be a common citizen is because of Don Vito arrangement.

When Michael Corleone was discharged early in 1945 to recover from a disabling wound, he had no idea that his father had arranged his release. He stayed home for a few weeks, then, without consulting anyone, entered Dartmouth College in Hanover, New Hampshire, and so he left his father's house. To return for the wedding of his sister and to show his own future wife to them, the washed-out rag of an American girl (Puzo 5).

Don Vito thinks that the bad wound of Michel has to be the last wound for Michel. He cannot forgive his self if Michel, the last son of Don Vito, kills by war. For Don Vito, the wound is the pain that has to take. Therefore, the reason of discharging of Michel from army is Don Vito cannot let his son gets the pain anymore.

As to solving the problem with landlord, Don Vito plays his role in the best way. Don Vito taking the pain of others firstly happens when he was a young. In that time, the young Vito just to be a respected man because of he can clean off Fanucci 'the black hand'.

Mrs. Colombo, who is the neighbor of Don Vito, comes to him for request. She has problem with landlord of her room; forbid to keep the animal especially the dog in the room or get off from the apartment. Mrs. Colombo cannot clean off her dog and she does not want to move on to another apartment. Hence, she needs help of Don Vito to solve her problems.

As the one who has great power, Don Vito uses his power wisely. He uses his power not for mistreatment someone. However, he uses it to help the one who needs him. He arranges the best problem solving for the supplicants just for makes them do not worry anymore. He is not only taking the pain of others, but also transforms to be the cure for others. Even Don Vito takes the pain of his enemy, Tattaglia.

As to releasing the worry of his enemy, Don Vito does it sincerely. The Tattaglias, who supports Sollozzo to sell drugs in New York City, has lost the youngest son, Bruno Tattaglia. The Tattaglias response it, and kill the elder son of The Corleones, Sonny Corleone. Moreover, that situation makes the war in New York City.

However, as the head of the Corleones, Don Vito does not want to get is war even though his eldest son has killed by the enemy. He prefers to make the peace. Hence, he calls all of the families in New York City, to achieve the peace.

The Tattaglias is still afraid, though Don Vito declares the peace. The Tattaglias is afraid because of Don Vito may do the vendetta. Don Vito may take a revenge and kill all of the Tattaglias when the peace run. However, Don Vito assures to Tattaglias that it will never happen.

"What manner of men are we then, if we do not have our reason," he said. "We are all no better than beasts in a jungle if that were the case. But we have reason, we can reason with each other and we can reason with ourselves. To what purpose would I start all these troubles again, the violence and the turmoil? My son is dead and that is a misfortune

The authors of The Godfather, Mario Puzo, describes Luca Brasi as the terror of human that kill anyone brutality. The Killing Machine. He does not to death or police. However, he obeys to Don Vito Corleone. It is because of Don Vito puts the respect to Luca Brasi. In addition, when Luca gives the present for the wedding party of Don, Don takes it proudly. In this case, don does not take the gratification such as id needs it. Don Vito takes the present of Luca, is because of the superego of don that accept the happiness of the murderer, Luca Brasi. Hence, Superego of Don Vito Corleone represents the morality.

As to accepting the gift from senator, Don Vito shows his humility well. Senator of America wants to come in to the wedding party of Don Vito daughter. However, Don Vito forbids him because of FBI may track him. In addition, it is true that FBI is coming into the wedding party and makes a note for everyone who comes in there. Fortunately, senator obeys to Don Vito forbid.

Therefore, senator sends the gift for Don Vito. The special gift that is not only expensive, but also antique. Need for a long time to get the gift likes it. Hence, both Tom Hagen and Don Vito love the gift from senator.

Hagen made a face of impressed approval that was very strangely Italian on his German-Irish features. "Antique silver, very valuable. The kids can sell it for a grand at least. The Senator spent a lot of time getting exactly the right thing. For those kind of people that's more important than how much it costs."

Don Corleone did not hide his pleasure that so great a man as the Senator had shown him such respect. The Senator, like Luca Brasi, was one of the great stones in the Don's power structure, and he too, with this gift, had rewarded his loyalty.

Don Vito cannot hide his happiness. The happiness comes from the antique gift of senator. In addition, Don vito knows that senator is still loyal with him by sends the gift. Even though senator cannot come, his happiness is accepting by Don Vito happily.

Actually, Don Vito never refuses what the supplicant request. Anyone can belief him as a man who can take the words. If a man needs some helps, come to Don and declares his friendship, Don will service and give what he wants. However, Don refuses what Sollozzo request.

It happens because of Don cannot take what Sollozzo offers, to give protection for Sollozzo's employers to sell drugs in New York City. Don Vito cannot take it because he thinks that give the protection to sell drugs can bring trouble to his family that in peace. Don Vito has influence in congressional representative and support by the police. Moreover, the influence and support by police is the thing that Sollozzo needs.

Selling drugs is the main job for Sollozzo and there is a lot of money for the one who can run it. Don realizes it and if it the happiness of Sollozzo, don will let Don Vito offers the peace to all of the Families. In addition, the families accept it. Don Vito offers the peace even though he has to arrest his revenge. Even though, he has to receive the death of his eldest son. Don Vito accepts his enemies happiness even though that is hurt for him.

Don Vito thinks that the peace is has to be the projecting. Because of he has to take back Michel Corleone who is the next target of Barzinies. Therefore, Don Vito decides to offer the peace to the families.

The cost for the peace is expensive. Don Vito has to accept the rules for the peace; give protection drugs seller in New York City. As mentioned previously, Don Vito is the one who has support by congress representative and the police. Of course, by that powers can protect the drugs seller. However, congress representative and the police may forbid it.

Selling the drugs is the future business. Because there are a lot of money spins on there. The families want to run it and money can make them happy. However, Don Vito does not want to run it. Don Vito thinks that it is too danger for his family life.

In addition, Don Vito has to deal the peace with other families. Therefore, Don Vito has to protect the drugs seller in New York City to achieve the peace.

It was finally agreed. Drug traffic would be permitted and Don Corleone must give it some legal protection in the East. It was understood that the Barzini and Tattaglia Families would do most of the large-scale operations. With this out of the way the conference was

It indicates that Don Vito accepts the happiness of his son, Michel Corleone, who wants to get married. Even though it is, too danger to celebrate the wedding party, Don Vito lets it happens. In addition, the wedding party of Michel has to be under control of Don Tommasino, who is the friend of Don Vito and the parent of bridegroom for Michel.

As the father of Michel, Don Vito of course wants to see his son happy. However, if the condition is bad, the father normally tries to make it batter. Hence, Don Vito hesitates to decide the marriage of Michel at the first time.

After the meeting of peace agreement, Don Vito talks with Don Molinari from the west coast. Don Molinari tells the good news that his son, Freddie Corleone, is happy in Las Vegas. He adds that Freddie is the womanizer and every woman tries to catch Don Vito's son. In addition, because of Freddie can run the hotel business by under control of Don Molinari.

Don Vito, who hears that good news, cannot hide his proud to Freddie. He accepts the good news of Don Molinari who is happy with that news. Hence, he thanks to Don Molinari. In addition, Don Vito promises that he will use his influence to send the result of important racing by telegram first without disturbance.

Since his son Freddie was under the protection of the Molinari Family in the West, Don Corleone lingered with the San Francisco Don after the meeting to thank him. Molinari said enough for Don Corleone to gather that Freddie had found his niche out there, was happy and had become something of a ladies' man. He had a genius for running a hotel, it seemed. Don Corleone shook his head in wonder, as many fathers do when told of undreamed-of talents in their children. Meanwhile Corleone made it clear to the San Francisco Don that he was in his debt for the great service done in protecting Freddie. He let it be known that his influence would be exerted so that the important racing wires would always be available to his people no matter what changes occurred in the power structure in the years to come, an important guarantee since the struggle over this facility was a constant open wound complicated by the fact that the Chicago people had their heavy hand in it. But Don Corleone was not without influence even in that land of barbarians and so his promise was a gift of gold (Puzo 165-166).

As father who hears the achievement of his son, Don Vito is happy to hear that news. Hence, Don Molinaro who brings that news, gets thank from Don Vito and he will get the gift such as the telegram for the result of important racing, which is it uses to run the gambling.

Briefly, by those explanations above, Don Vito Corleone shows his morality in front of everyone who faces him. The morality of Don Vito Corleone who accepts the others' happiness and settles his jealousy such as greeting the murderer in his daughter's wedding party, accepting the gift from senator, letting Sollozzo sells the drugs if it makes him happy, giving the Johnny winning in the Oscar nomination and accepting the happiness of the enemies..
