

ABSTRACT

This thesis titled "Reaction Indonesian Islamic Union Party (1923-1940) Policy Against Political Islam Indies". The subject matter of this paper are: (1) what is the policy of political Islam Indies? (2) what PSII reaction against the Islamic political policy?

In answering these questions the author uses the theory of conflict and Theory of Dialectic Materialism of Karl Marx. Both of these theories have a huge influence on the development of PSII. Especially with the attitude of PSII in taking political action to move it and the party split future due to the increasing intransigence.

Results of this study concluded that there is a resistance in the face of the policies of the Netherlands by Muslims, especially PSII. Netherlands implementing some policies that severely restrict movement of the Muslims of Indonesia, as the representative of Indonesia joined in volksrad, PSII filed eight charges against the Netherlands. Although its demands did not get a good response, PSII retains its struggle until the arrival of Japanese troops.
