

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSSION

It can now be concluded that first, the financial difficulty is faced by Mrs. Warren and the little choice is given by society to get the better life for women are the reasons motivated her to prostitute herself. Mrs. Warren who confronts the economic problem in her family forces her to look for the alternative option to resolve her economic problem. In fact, the alternative option she chooses by working as a scullery maid and a waitress are unable to cover the finance problem and suffice her daily needs because the low wage she receives that is not appropriate of the over working she has to do every day. The only way out she finds is by following her sister's profession as a prostitute. Her sister Lizzie who early becomes a prostitute reminds Mrs. Warren that the alternative option she picks is impossible to suffice the needs and to keep her well beauty instead of throwing her health and time. Lizzie who early works as a prostitute realizes that society gives women little choice to be what they want, and does not want Mrs. Warren to live difficult as other women.

Second, prostitution changes Mrs. Warren's life as rich woman and also causes she separates with her daughter Vivie forever. Mrs. Warren who lives difficulty during her youth is also wants to change her unlucky fate. Prostitution she chooses is considered as the way out to cover the economic problem enlces her. The way of earning money through prostitution changes her life immediately. By working as a prostitute, Mrs. Warren is able to buy a luxurious house in Brussels, has some brothels and supports her daughter's living and education costs. Prostitution also causes Mrs. Warren has to separate with her daughter, Vivie, forever since she knows that her mother's whole way of earning money is through prostitution. From the story of Mrs. Warren above, we can conclude that the wrong way of earning money done by Mrs. Warren is not always gives her profits, but she has to accepts the consequence that not all people want to accept money through the wrong way as done by Mrs. Warren to Vivie.

Third, the issue of prostitution is depicted by the author in the story is a representation from the social issue of prostitution during Victorian era. Through the character of Mrs. Warren is depicted by Shaw as a lower class woman who is difficult to pick the chance for her better life, we learn how the condition of this working class woman who get the unfair from the places they work, so that she decides to be a prostitute since her low wage not suffice her daily needs. This condition of woman in Mrs. Warren's Profession is a representation the condition of women in Victorian era where in the chapter three has discussed that the economic difficulty position as the main cause of prostitution in Victorian era. The rise of poverty among working-class women is caused by the low wage which is not suffice their needs and other risks they must get which influence them to prostitute themselves. The representation issue of prostitution through Mrs. Warren's Profession aims to describe the real condition of working-class women during Victorian era who have little choices for her survive so that force them to enter into prostitution. The representation relates with Shaw's view of prostitution, in Mrs. Warren's Profession: A Study Guide he states that "prostitution in Victorian is not caused by female depravity and male licentiousness, but simply by underpaying, undervaluing and overworking women so shamefully that the poorest of them are forced to resort to prostitution to keep body and soul together" (16).

Forth, even though prostitution in Mrs. Warren's Profession is considered as the only way out for survive since the low wage and over work she receive is not suffice her daily need, Islam forbids human to do sexual intercourse except with husband or wife, Islam also forbids us for earning money through the wrong way. Renting of body for earning money is not a right way and not suggested in Islam. God gives brain to us to able distinguishes the right and wrong. We still have other skill to be developed and work based on the skill we have.
