4.6 Discussion

The grey was one of the movie has spoken six of categories swear word. They are copulative, excretory, irregularities, animal, body function and mother in law. The researcher considered the grey movie that prefers to utter the words that have one syllable, such as ss, bullshit, shit, motherfucker and fuck. furthermore, the words are easy to remember and speak. Copulative is the highest one, and it is possible for the characters to utter those words outside the movies.

It is also unique term which the word fuck consists in. It only has one syllable to say. The other unique of fuck is that this word is not too offensive, which means when someone says this word, the target or society will not mind much about it, because it is not physical or racial insulting which is not good for humanity.

The research also related to the Islamic religion. The research told about the category of swears word to say and also the purpose of each category. Reading this research, the researcher hopes to the readers can understand how God learn to us. He knew everything better for us. There was a statement:

Indeed a servant utter one word Allah blessed that he did not think that would get so so recorded by his pleasure of Allah for the person up to the day of Judgment. And a man said one word wrath of God Almighty that he thought would not be so, then God Almighty such a record it until the Day of Judgment. (Narrated by Tirmidhi and he said the hadith is hasan saheeh; was also narrated by Ibn Majah)
