

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. CONCLUSION

Picture is a good way to make the learning attractive and enjoyable in teaching learning process. It is easier for students to understand. They can focus on the material and imagine directly about what pictures they see.

Based on the researcher researches, the researcher states that most of them often get difficulty to develop vocabulary without using pictures. She concludes from the result of research methodology that learners who are learning by using pictures are better than learners who are learning without using pictures. The researcher compares between two classes (A class and B class). A class is by using pictures and B class is without using pictures. The conclusion is there are significant differences mastery between the results of learners who learn by using pictures and learners who learn without using pictures.

B. SUGGESTION

The researcher will suggest to all people especially to the teacher that:

- 1) The English teacher should use visual aids especially pictures in teaching process.
- 2) Using pictures in teaching learning can enrich learners' vocabularies and in teaching English generally is more effective and interesting than without using pictures.
- 3) To make learners are more interactive, it is better to use colorful pictures.
- 4) A big picture is easy to understand to all students in the classroom.
- 5) A picture should clear to make easy student to understand the topic
